A Look at 40 Years of Making Connections in the Bronx

As Lasallian women and men, those who lived and served here (listed on the spiral) are renowned for their profound connections with each other and the families they compassionately served in the Bronx. Our mission is to be vessels through which the creator's light radiates to the world. While some of us share a common residence, others live apart. We encompass diverse ages, from the vibrant youth in their twenties to those gracefully retired. The time we give to service varies — some stay for a year or two, while others dedicate themselves for a lifetime. It is both a privilege and an honor for the 100 Young Lasallians, known as Lasallian Volunteers, who have served for the past 40 years. May the Lord of new beginnings similarly bless their successors, the Lasallian Service Corps.

POTS (Part of the Solution) fights poverty and hunger. The HopeLine helps families meet basic needs. Lasallian Service Corps is young women and men living and serving here in the Bronx. Mercy Center helps families grow and thrive via education. Women's Leadership School develops the curiosity and creativity of young girls. Roundtable Intentional Community gathers for prayer, sharing, and a meal.
